

Maple Leaf Matting Announces Formalized Indigenous, Environment, Social, Governance Strategy and Report

July 28, 2022

Maple Leaf Matting Inc. announces its formalized Indigenous, Environment, Social, Governance (IESG) strategy.

Maple Leaf Matting is pleased to introduce our formalized sustainability commitment with the completion of our first Indigenous, Environmental, Social, Governance report. It is an important step in demonstrating our ongoing dedication to sustainable business practices and achieving meaningful goals.

As you know, Maple Leaf Matting's foundation is built around our parent company, Strad's, Core Purpose, Going Beyond, and its Guiding Principles. Every decision we make and action we take for our people, our operations, and the business we conduct, is intentionally rooted in our Core Purpose and Guiding Principles.

For Maple Leaf Matting, Indigenous relations goes beyond simple consideration of a stakeholder group – it is part of who we are and how we operate and spreads across all Environmental, Social, and Governance aspects of our business. Making a difference through strategic partnerships that support the unique and diverse priorities of Indigenous communities is at the core of Maple Leaf Matting's ESG efforts.

At Maple Leaf Matting, everything starts and finishes with Going Beyond. On behalf of our senior leadership team, we want to recognize the tremendous contribution of our employees who bring their heart, their intelligence, and deep industry experience to work every day. Their relentless passion for Going Beyond is the engine that propels Maple Leaf Matting consistently forward.
